

Agnes Kertes Ganami – Ísrael

I was born to a dog breeding family. My father bred and trained Dobermans and Teckels before World War II in Hungary. After the war I immigrated to Israel and as soon as my living conditions enabled I started my own breeding. I bred German Shepherd Dogs, Standard Schnauzers and the last 20 years I bred Shiba Inu as well.

Dogs of my breeding achieved excellent results in the Show rings, many of them became champions.

I became judge in 1971 first for German Shepherd Dogs and Schnauzers. With the years I added more breeds to my judging list until I completed all the tasks to become "All Rounder" Judge in 1984.

I judge regularly about 25 Dog Shows a year. I judge all over the World in Europe, in South American countries, in the Far East, South Africa, in Australia, where I judged 3 times at the Melbourne Royal Show.

Among my activities in the Chinological world I wrote articles, gave lectures on various dog subjects. I took many tasks in the Israel Kennel Club as President of Breed Clubs, as President of judge's Committee and the Breeding Committee and took part for decades in the education of judges.

I am a Chemical Engineer by profession. Today I am retired from my professional life and I dedicate all my time to judging and enjoying my four dog loving grand-children's company.
