

Leif Ragnar Hjorth Noregi

All-rounder

I was 11 years old when I bought my first own dog a boxer. As 14 I had my debut as a breeder with her. Later I got an Irish Setter before I came into the two breeds which very much has formed my life as a dog person the Old English Sheepdog which I have had for 25 years and the Hungarian Puli which I this year have had for 30 years.

I started judging in 1983 at open shows and in 1990 I started the education and became qualified FCI judge. In 2009 I was qualified to judge All Breeds and Best in Show at International level. I have been judging in most European countries and Australia . In 1998 I judged the Hungarian Pulis at CRUFTs.

I am 65 years of age and I work as a dr. of human medicine both in hospital and in private practice.
