

ZORICA SALIJEVIC, International Dog Show Judge, Sweden

Hefur réttindi til að dæma tegundir í tegundahóp 1,2,5,8,9,10

My name is Zorica Salijevic, and I was born in Belgrad, Serbia. My first dog - German Sheppard I get 1985 when I was living in Skopje, Macedonia. Since then I was always involved in Dog Shows, obedience training, agility and breeding.

My Kennel "Od Salijevica" was one of the best not only in Macedonia, although in "old" Yugoslavia. I become an International Dog Show judge 1987 and since that time I am judging all over my country, Europe, Scandinavian and Baltic countries as well.

I wrote a numerous texts about dogs, especially Yugoslav Sheppard Sarplaninac to many Dog and Animal magazines all over the world.

2005 I left Belgrade, Serbia and move to Stockholm. After I finished my school for Swedish language, I sent the application to the Svenska Kennel Klubben and they accepted me on 20th April 2009 as the Swedish International Dog Show judge.

Now I do not have to much time to have my own dogs, because I am travelling and judging a lot. Recently I started my own magazine ZORA MAGASINE (www.zora-gryning.eu) the first magazine for woman in Serbian and Swedish language. The main part of this informative and cultural magazine is dedicated to animals, pets and nature.